

Give a name to each of the following doubles and explain their meaning.

- |     |               |                   |                |                     |
|-----|---------------|-------------------|----------------|---------------------|
| 9)  | N1H       | EDble         | S              | W                   |
| 10) | N1NT      | EDble         | S              | W                   |
| 11) | N1H       | EPass         | S1NT       | WDble           |
| 12) | N1H       | EPass         | S4C        | WDble           |
| 13) | N1H5H | EPassPass | S4NT6H | WPassDouble |

Try this contract of 6Sp on the lead of the 9 Clubs. Yes you are missing two Aces !
 What is your general plan and what do you play at :
 Trick 1 ) ? Trick 2 ) Trick 3 ) etc

- |     |            |         |
|-----|------------|---------|
| 14) | (declarer) | (dummy) |
|     | KQJ10943   | 8765    |
|     | 8          | KJ      |
|     | K765       | AQJ10   |
|     | 3          | AQJ     |

The opponents bid up to 5SP and this is the contract you are defending . {Yes 5Sp }.
 You start brightly with the Ace Hrts but the declarer trumps this lead.
 Declarer plays a Spade and you take the Ace Sp (with everyone following suit).
 What do you play at trick 3 ?

- |     |       |         |
|-----|-------|---------|
| 15) | (you) | (dummy) |
|     | A943  | J108    |
|     | AK54  | 1065    |
|     | 543   | AQJ     |
|     | 32    | AQJ4    |

